About the artists . . .

Since his debut as a professional clarinetist in the early 1970s, and as a current member of the Los Angeles Opera Orchestra, Stephen Piazza has shared the concert stage and recorded with such musical luminaries as Zubin Mehta, Plácido Domingo, Renée Fleming, Barbra Streisand, Itzhak Perlman, Carlo Maria Giulini, Leonard Bernstein, Gustavo Dudamel, and James Conlon. In addition to nearly 1,000 performances with LA Opera and the Los Angeles Philharmonic at the Music Center, Walt Disney Concert Hall, and the Hollywood Bowl, he has also performed in Carnegie Hall, Lincoln Center, Kennedy Center, Théâtre du Châtelet, and the Palacio de Bellas Artes. Active as a conductor and music educator, Mr. Piazza has led numerous wind ensembles, orchestras, and chamber ensembles including the United States Army Field Band, the San Fernando Valley Symphony, and select members of the Long Beach Symphony and the Idyllwild Chamber Players. His 40-year affiliation with Idyllwild Arts brought him into contact with hundreds of aspiring young musicians, many of whom have gone on to successful careers as music performers and educators. With his appointment to the faculty of Los Angeles Pierce College in 1976, Piazza began to revitalize their wind band program, culminating in the formation of the Los Angeles Symphonic Winds. This internationally acclaimed ensemble has appeared throughout the United States and Canada, in addition to performing in France, England, Hungary, Luxembourg, Italy, and China. Their current season features eight concerts including a subscription series, as well as joint concerts with ensembles from Caltech and Cal State Northridge. For more information, please visit www.lawinds.com.

Today's performers are drawn from Maestro Piazza's distinguished colleagues at LA Opera and the LA Symphonic Winds.

Next week . . .

Please join us next Sunday, May 5, 6:00 pm, when we present emerging artists from the Colburn School's Ed and Mari Edelman Chamber Music Institute, performing works to be announced. Please visit GreatMusicLA.org for further news of our 2023/24 season of free concerts and other musical events
